

Tournament Lie & Loft Gauge for Irons

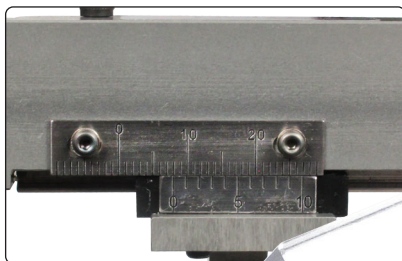

The Golfmechanix Tournament lie and loft measuring gauge is designed for the golf professional working both on and off the golf course, where most lie and loft gauges costing hundreds of dollars more are too clunky and not practical enough to carry around.

The gauge clips to the golf shaft and the measuring plate is brought about the club face to reveal the lie, loft, and face progression of irons, hybrids and putters.

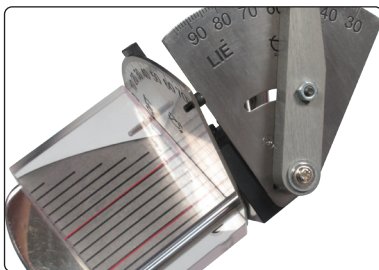

The Tournament gauge is a good conversation starter and is ideal for initiating casual fitting sessions with potential prospects. The Tournament gauge is for right handed clubs only.

▲ Measures loft

▲ Measures leading edge progression.

▲ Measures lie

